

The glue on your texture board should now be dry. Now it is time to paint. You can use any colours you choose, but try not to mix them all over the board as it may look a bit messy.

Once the paint is dry you could feel the different textures and decide which you like or dislike the most.

